The four of us that braved the rain on Saturday were lucky because it rained on the way there and back, but we got no rain while birding. The count was a little lower than last year 36 as opposed to 42. This could be due to what appears to be a late migration. But as always the species were varied and we got excellent looks at Prothonotary Warblers and Bald Eagles. Next year if I do the walk, I may do it later when the lilies are blooming. Also, I had my first Ruby-throated hummingbird of the year today.
